ALFRED HITCHCOCK’S
QUINTESSENTIAL SPY CAPER—
RESTORED AND IN A NEW SPECIAL EDITION!

The 39 Steps is a heart-racing spy story by ALFRED HITCHCOCK (Psycho), following Richard Hannay (Oscar winner ROBERT DONAT of Goodbye, Mr. Chips), who stumbles into a conspiracy that thrusts him into a hectic chase across the Scottish moors—a chase in which he is both the pursuer and the pursued—as well as into an expected romance with the cool Pamela (MADELEINE CARROLL). Adapted from a novel by JOHN BUCHAN, this classic wrong-man thriller from the Master of Suspense anticipates the director’s most famous works (especially North by Northwest), and remains one of his cleverest and most entertaining films.

“Ripping good yarn . . . Great fun!”
—Geoff Andrew, Time Out

“For sheer entertainment value it still stands in the forefront of his work.”
—Dave Kehr, Chicago Reader

AND EVERYTHING IS GOING FINE

STEVEN SODERBERGH’S FUNNY AND DEVASTATING 2010 DOCUMENTARY ABOUT THE LATE SPALDING GRAY

After the death in 2004 of American theater actor and monologist SPALDING GRAY, director STEVEN SODERBERGH (Traffic) pieced together a narrative of Gray’s life to create the documentary And Everything Is Going Fine. Brilliantly and sensitively assembled entirely from footage of Gray, taken from interviews and one-man shows from throughout his career, it is a rich, full portrait—an autobiography of sorts—of a figure who was never less than candid but retained an air of mystery. In essence, this hilarious, moving, and revealing film has become Gray’s final monologue.

“Exquisitely fabricated . . . Allows Gray to tell his own story just as he did onstage for twenty-five years.”
—Amy Taubin, Artforum

“A tour de force.”

The first feature-length comedy by CHARLIE CHAPLIN (Modern Times)—which charts a hapless prospector’s search for fortune in the Klondike and his discovery of romance (with the beautiful GEORGIA HALE)—forever cemented the iconic status of Chaplin and his Little Tramp character. Shot partly on location in the Sierra Nevadas and featuring such timeless gags as Chaplin’s dance of the dinner rolls and meal of boiled shoe leather, The Gold Rush is an indelible work of nonstop hilarity. This special edition features both Chaplin’s definitive 1942 version, for which the director added new music and narration, and a new restoration of the original silent 1925 film.

SPECIAL EDITION FEATURES

- New high-definition digital restoration of the 1942 sound version, with uncompressed monaural soundtrack on the Blu-ray edition
- New 2K digital transfer of the reconstructed original 1925 silent film, restored in collaboration with the Cineteca di Bologna, with a newly recorded version of director Charlie Chaplin’s score, presented in 5.1 surround DTS-HD Master Audio on the Blu-ray edition
- New audio commentary for the 1925 version by Chaplin biographer and archivist Jeffrey Vance
- Three new programs: Presenting “The Gold Rush,” which traces the film’s history from original release to rerelease to 2003 reconstruction and features film historian Kevin Brownlow and Vance; Music by Charles Chaplin, featuring conductor and composer Timothy Brock; and Visual Effects in “The Gold Rush,” featuring effects specialist Craig Barron and Chaplin cinematographer Roland Totheroh
- Four theatrical trailers
- PLUS: A booklet featuring an essay by film critic Luc Sante and James Agee’s review of the 1942 version

One of the great raconteurs of stage and screen, SPALDING GRAY (Swimming to Cambodia), came together with one of cinema’s boldest image-makers, Oscar-winning director STEVEN SODERBERGH (Traffic), for Gray’s Anatomy, a spellbinding adaptation of Gray’s 1993 monologue of the same name (cowritten with Renée Shafransky). In it, Gray, with typical sardonic relish, chronicles his arduous journey through the diagnosis and treatment of a rare and alarming ocular condition. For the monologist, this experience occasioned a meditation on illness and mortality, medicine and metaphysics; for the filmmaker, it was a chance to experiment with ways of bringing his subject’s words to brilliant, eye-opening life.

“Skewed, unsettling, and often hilarious.”
—Marc Savlov, The Austin Chronicle

“A dizzying, absorbing odyssey of the neurotic mind.”
—Desson Thomson, The Washington Post

A NEW RESTORATION OF THE EPIC,
OSCAR-WINNING ACTION SAGA STARRING
TOSHIRO MIFUNE IN ONE OF HIS GREATEST ROLES!

The Samurai Trilogy, directed by HIROSHI INAGAKI (The Rickshaw Man) and starring the inimitable TOSHIRO MIFUNE (Seven Samurai), was one of Japan's most successful exports of the 1950s, a rousing, emotionally gripping tale of combat and self-discovery. Based on a novel that's often called Japan's Gone with the Wind, this sweeping saga fictionalizes the life of the legendary seventeenth-century swordsman (and writer and artist) Musashi Miyamoto, following him on his path from unruly youth to enlightened warrior. With these three films—1954’s Oscar-winning Musashi Miyamoto, 1955’s Duel at Ichijoji Temple, and 1956’s Duel at Ganryu Island—Inagaki created a passionate epic that’s equal parts tender love story and bloody action.

SPECIAL EDITION FEATURES
• New high-definition digital restorations of all three films, with uncompressed monaural soundtracks on the Blu-ray edition
• New interviews with translator and historian William Scott Wilson about the real-life Musashi Miyamoto, the inspiration for the hero of the films
• Trailers
• New English subtitle translations
• PLUS: A booklet featuring essays by film historian Stephen Prince and Wilson

THE CRITERION COLLECTION
This diabolical thriller was the first film from director DANNY BOYLE, producer ANDREW MACDONALD, and screenwriter JOHN HODGE (the smashing team behind Trainspotting). In Shallow Grave, three self-involved Edinburgh roommates—played by KERRY FOX (An Angel at My Table), CHRISTOPHER ECCLESTON (Elizabeth), and EWAN MCGREGOR (Beginners), in his first starring role—take in a brooding boarder. When he dies of an overdose, leaving a suitcase full of money, the trio embark on a series of very bad decisions, with extraordinarily grim consequences for all. Macabre but with a streak of offbeat humor, this stylistically influential tale of guilt and derangement is a full-throttle bit of Hitchcockian nastiness.

“A tar-black comedy that zings along on a wave of visual and scripting inventiveness.”
—Derek Elley, Variety

“A chilling and claustrophobic heart-stopper.”
—Caroline Westbrook, Empire
